Dinner to Honor Hardy Jackson On Retirement

Hardy H. Jackson, Albany Poundman and man of all work for the city government during the last six years, will retire on March 17.

His place will be hard to fill, for he has won the hearts of Albany's citizens for his courtesy in carrying out his duties, and his many acts of kindness above and beyond the call of duty.

Jackson was born in Bluffdale, Texas. He entered the U.S. Postal Service at Winslow, Arkansas in 1919 as a clerk, and from there to Amarillo and Ft. Worth, Texas. Following 32 years in the postal service, Jackson retired to take up duties of poundman in Westwood and Vallejo, and thence to Albany in 1955.

He is an outstanding archer and declares that one of his objectives when he returns to Winslow, Arkansas, where he has a 68 acre farm, will be to spend his spare time in deer hunting with bow and arrow. "There," he says, "the season on deer lasts 60 days," and he hopes to enjoy every day of it. Jackson and his wife Garnet will leave shortly after his retirement for their Arkansas farm.

Chief of Police Ralph M. Jensen and other friends are arranging a farewell dinner in Jackson's honor, at Kirby's Restaurant, Friday evening, March 17, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Harrison Albany Chairman For Cancer Society

The appointment of Mrs. Eugene Harrison as Albany city residential chairman for the April educational-fund campaign of the American Cancer Society, was announced today by Mrs. Russell E. Monson, county residential chairman.

Mrs. Harrison, who lives at 1888 San Lorenzo Avenue, Berkeley, has long been active in the PTA and served as a district captain in last year's campaign. She is the mother of two young children.

In announcing Mrs. Harrison's appointment, Mrs. Monson stressed the immediate need for volunteers in the various residential areas. "Our residential campaign," she said, "is the very heart of National Cancer Control Month. Our purpose is two-fold," she said, "to enlist financial support for the research, educational and service programs of the American Cancer Society, and also to distribute life-saving information about cancer to very family in Alameda County."

This year's residential campaign has been set for April 17. An estimated 1300 volunteers will be needed to complete the roster for a successful residential campaign.

Women interested in assisting in the residential campaign are urged to contact Mrs. Harrison at LA 4-8404 or Mrs. Russell Monson at LA 6-9057 at their earliest convenience.

Chamber Chatter

"It Might As Well Be Spring" — seems to describe the beautiful days we have been having in our city and area... do you realize how fortunate we are to live and work where such natural beauty and climate is our God given heritage? But it is taken so much for granted.

How can we make the most of this great asset, maintain and preserve it in the cities of this area, was the theme of the Conference on Clean Communities and Civic Beautification at the Claremont last Friday. No city is too big or too small to tackle this project — it means real dollars and cents to the business economy as well as making our city a better place to live and work.

You must first generate pride before you can have beautification — we do have pride in Albany as evidenced by the returns to the business questionnaire, as evidenced by the number of improvements and remodeling of businesses; beautiful new quarters of Security Savings and Loan, Berkey-Lee Garage, Dagana's Market, Sam's Pharmacy, Cortese Pharmacy, and now the newly located French Imports, (congratulations Howard and Louise Rohrer!) and the soon to be opened Call Brothers Jewelers! These business firms are proud to be a part of Albany and confident of its business future.

Now what can we do? — First the big projects for your Chamber of Commerce and city — new street lighting for the business area, a clean up, paint up, fix up campaign for the whole city; celebrating Plant-a-Tree Week, March 5-11, by planting of more trees, shrubs, and flowers — The Solano Avenue Merchants have made the first big step with the trees on the avenue — but they need to be cared for and maintained — let's do it.

But what can we do as individuals? Do you know that everyone of us is a litterbug — that every time you toss down a crumpled up empty cigarette package, or cigarette, or candy wrapper you are contributing to the tons and tons of litter that spoil the beauty of our country? Note: tree planter boxes are not litter cans! Never sell beauty short, it is one of our greatest assets!

Speaking of Spring brings up Easter — There will be a 1961 Easter Fun Gram, Thursday, March 29, sponsored by the Solano Avenue Merchants Association — A big kiddie parade down the Avenue, followed by treats and theatre party at the Albany Theatre. So watch for more details later!

Spring again — but the Albany YMCA Program says, "You can capture the look and fresh feeling of Spring through enjoyable activities at the 'Y.' — Stop for a look at Albany YMCA display at the Chamber office and pick up a program of activities.

A special welcome to Albany's newest real estate office, Fair Oaks Real Estate at 1504 Solano Avenue.

Due to the favorable response to previous classroom visitation meetings, Mrs. Michael Bunch, President, anticipates an overflow group of parents to attend Thursday's meeting.
Fifth grade room mothers will host the afternoon by serving refreshments in the school cafeteria following the business meeting. Registration starts at 1:15 at the auditorium. Child care will be provided.

$65,000 Raised By Volunteers On Heart Sunday

Spring weather in all of Alameda County gave the 1961 Heart Sunday volunteers keen competition. Many families had piled into their cars and were out enjoying the countryside when volunteers called in the house-to-house canvass for Heart Fund contributions.

But those who were home were greeted by one of the more than 10,500 men and women who were working for the Alameda County Heart Association in the fourth Heart Sunday campaign. More than 1000 women working in "leadership" positions and the San Leandro Rough Riders Motorcycle Club worked from sun up to the wee late hours to see that funds were raised to combat the nation's number one disease! The night's first returns show $65,400.

City to Vote On New School Tax May 9th

Tuesday, May 9, has been set for the proposed school tax election in which the voters will be asked to approve an increase of 25 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. This would increase the tax rate from $2.95 to $3.20, and probably will be levied over a five-year period. Unless this increase is approved by the voters the rate will revert to the former statutory limit of $1.65.

A drop back to the $1.65 limit, according to Superintendent Kenneth M. Forry, would cut the revenue for Albany's schools by approximately $258,000. Without the increase asked for the district would soon be operating in the red, with outside revenues cut materially and costs constantly rising.

In order to be eligible to vote at the May 9 election residents must be registered. Those who voted at the last major election are still eligible, if not they must register anew on or before March 15, the deadline.

TURNER APPOINTED TO DUAL POSITION

The Albany City Council Monday night unanimously approved a motion to appoint James B. Turner, principal civil engineer on the Alameda County staff and currently loaned to the city by the county as Albany's acting city engineer, to the post of Albany City Engineer and Administrative Assistant to the City Council.

The motion was made by Councilman Joel W. Parker, and seconded by Councilman Boych. There was no discussion.
The move is one which has been forecast for some time, dating back, in fact, to 1957 when the then City Treasurer Robert G. Olson, was given the task of administrative assistant in addition to his treasurer's duties.

Engineer Turner was outstanding among the many candidates interviewed by the council for the position. He has been doing an excellent job for Albany, according to members of the council, although his duties with the county shortened his time on duties here to only a few hours a week. Turner established an administrative and creative reputation when he supervised the organization of city staffs for the new cities of Fremont and Union City in southern Alameda County. He will assume his duties here, following two weeks' notice to the county of his resignation.

The council also approved, subject to final approval of the city engineer, one of two proposals submitted by H. F. Call, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission, regarding a meeting to discuss some proposed changes in the new zoning ordinance before its submission to the council for final approval and adoption.

Proposal for a foundation investigation for the Buchanan Overpass at a cost not to exceed $1,650, was approved with the suggestion by Councilman Howitt that the cost be taken from State gas tax funds, and not from Albany's share of the Alameda County allotment.

A letter from Clayton G. Berling, 630 Talbot Avenue, regarding statements made by Stanley Wilkins, former member of the Park and Recreation Commission at the February 20 meeting in which the latter made charges against Elmer Nelson, superintendent, was read and filed.

Request for an extension of time for completion of work in Assessment District No. 3 until March 24 because of ground conditions encountered, was read, as was a letter from Engineer of Work Theodore V. Tronoff recommending the extension, was referred to the city engineer with action to be taken on his approval of the move.

A suggestion was made by Mrs. Sally Eckstein, 1106 Pomona Avenue, that recognition be taken of the many graduates from Albany High School who have accomplished much in many fields of endeavor, was heard.

Request of E. L. Nelson, superintendent of the Park and Recreation department, that Mrs. Marion Wolf be hired to replace Mrs. Hoffinger as Pre-school director, was referred to the Recreation Commission.

An increase in salary for Mrs. Isola Koosis of the library staff, she having completed the necessary six month probationary period, was approved, effective as of February 1.

North Berkeley Beauty School Grand Opening

A grand opening celebration this Sunday and Monday, March 5 and 6, will mark the establishment of the North Berkeley Beauty School at 1896 Solano Avenue, at The Alameda, by Joe and Dorothy Maples, owners, operators and instructors.

The celebration will feature an open house with coffee served, tours of the beautiful new school and presentation of two free beauty courses, one Sunday and one Monday.

Amid the preparations for the event, Mrs. Maples said, "Many people have voiced their appreciation of the establishing of a beauty school in this locality, where many existing schools have had to have waiting periods for admittance. We love the climate and the beauty of this area, and especially the people, who have been so helpful and friendly."

Joe and Dorothy Maples moved to 641 Adams Street, Albany, recently from Little Rock, California, where they have operated their beauty shop for the past six years. Their children, Douglas and Marilee, attend Albany High School.

The school will offer students complete training for state licenses in this glamorous setting with all new equipment and instruction by extensively experienced owner-instructors. It will offer patterns hair styling, hair shaping, coloring and cold waving by students, under the supervision of instructors, at lower than beauty shop rates. This service can start immediately after the opening because some students with the necessary experience have transferred from other schools.

Dorothy, at one time, worked at the Hollywood Columbia Square Beauty Salon where she did beauty work for movie stars from the Columbia Studio across the street. Joe studied advanced hair styling with Robert Ironie. Both have had specialized training in hair coloring, bleaching, toning and cold waving, and have diplomas from Clairol as Expert Colorists and from the Marinello Instructors School, Los Angeles.

Dorothy was an instructor at the Foothill Beauty Academy in Monrovia, and at the A. V. Beauty College in Lancaster. Joe was an instructor at the Lancaster Beauty School in Lancaster for some time before moving here.

It is more shameful to distrust our friends than to be deceived by them. — La Rochefoucauld.

School Library Seeks More Books

The old books on your shelves or in your attic or basement can bring new books to the shelves of the Thousand Oaks School Library.

The children and parents of the school will be conducting a book drive from March 1 to March 10 for this purpose. They are hoping that the many friends of Thousand Oaks in this neighborhood will be willing to contribute their old books to this PTA sponsored project. The old books are sold to a used book dealer and in turn the PTA is able to purchase new ones for the school library.

Books may be brought to the school auditorium during school hours or arrangements for pickup may be made by calling one of the following committee members: Mrs. George Hagg, LA 5-0082; Mrs. Ralph Miller, LA 4-5220; and Mrs. Robert Steidel, LA 6-8691.

'SERVING THIS COMMUNITY FOR OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY'

Dagna's Market Open House Today Thru Sat.

"This major remodeling represents an investment expressing faith in Albany and a recognition of the need for progress in modern local stores," Joe Dagna stated today as he prepared for an open house celebration this Wednesday through Saturday, March 1, 2, 3 and 4, at Dagna's Market at 1832 Soano Avenue in Albany.

The public is invited to come in for a cup of coffee and to see the new and expanded facilities. Joe described the frozen food department as "the largest in Albany, offering the most complete variety of frozen foods. It is maintained at the highest degree of quality by the latest freezing equipment."

The new produce department is completely refrigerated. The modern improved-care dairy case with 120' of display area, is only the second such installation in California. Everything has been done to make this a most complete shopping stop where, in addition to a most complete selection of groceries you can buy magazines, sundries and liquors.

The meat department, Ed's Reliable Meats, given notice, will even cook your roast, roaster or ribs on their rotisserie, ready to serve.

U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Offers Boating Training

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary is offering a free course in elements of small boat handling and seamanship for new and prospective boat owners.

With more and more people turning to water recreation, the Coast Guard Auxiliary is making every effort to bring boating information to the public in order that their boating time will be safer and more enjoyable.

The spring class being conducted by Berkeley Flotilla No. 26, will be held at the Berkeley Yacht Harbor, starting Thursday, February 23, at 7:30 p.m.

Graduates of the class will be awarded basic seamanship certificates by the U.S. Coast Guard.

GRACE LUTHERAN

At Grace Lutheran Church, Santa Fe Avenue at Ward, the Rev. O. R. Janke, pastor, will speak on the topic, "Sources of Temptation: the World About Us."

The lesson topic for the graded classes of the Sunday School meeting at 9:30 a.m. will be, "Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane." The parish Bible classes will meet at the same hour.

Continuing the Wednesday Lenten worship schedule, the youth worship will be held at 7:30 a.m. and the evening service at 7:45 p.m. The pastor will speak on the topic, "Behold the Lamb of God Rejected."

E. B. Chevrolet Reports Upturn In Feb. Car Sales

February brought a sharp upturn in Chevrolet sales in Northern California and Western Nevada, Jack Labadie of East Bay Chevrolet announced here today.

Combined Chevrolet, Corvair and Chevy truck sales during the first ten days of February totaled 1,372 units in the area, an impressive 12.6 per cent increase over the last 10-day period in January, he said.

"This is a very encouraging sign and we're mighty pleased to see it," Labadie declared. "We have always felt that, despite the prophets of doom, there is a basic public confidence in our economy that will make itself felt in 1961. This increase in Chevrolet sales here in the West indicates that the upswing is arriving much sooner than many people expected."

Labadie predicted that 1961 will be another banner year for Chevrolet sales and a good year for the automotive industry generally.

and goes up again too we hope — (except prices). Cycles! Everything revolves either around itself or in orbit. Business is no exception. Right now it seems to be on dead center. We hope the movement will be up, but we ought to be prepared in case it is not. To cushion the effect of these cycles there is nothing like money in the bank. Everyone knows this, but so many put off doing anything about it. Don't Wait! There is no substitute for bank savings and MECHANICS is the place.

Calif. Gets 92% of March of Dimes Funds

THE FIGHT AGAINST CRIPPLING goes forward on many fronts with funds raised through the March of Dimes. The scientist in the laboratory seeks answers on the slides under a powerful microscope. The doctor in his office brings to bear all of medicine's present knowledge to relieve pain and crippling for the individual patient.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The state of California has been the principal beneficiary in the allocation of March of Dimes funds raised in the state over the past 23 years, it was disclosed today in a financial summary prepared by The National Foundation.

More than 92 cents of every dollar from California's March of Dimes has been put to use in aiding the state's disease victims and in research and education projects conducted by California institutions. Of the remaining 8 per cent accruing to the national headquarters, a large portion also has come back to California in payments of polio vaccine and gamma globulin and in other nationwide services conducted by The National Foundation.

In this period, California's 61 chapters of the March of Dimes organization raised a net total of $46,371,780.74 at an average fund-raising cost of 10 1/2 per cent. Of this amount, $34,064,032.96 has been available to the county chapters in carrying out their extensive patient aid programs, including advances of $12,660,830.87 from the national office to meet local emergency situations.

In addition, 247 grants totaling $8,710,322.56 have been made in support of research and professional education projects at California institutions. Principal recipients of these grants have been: The University of California, Berkeley, $2,135,197.91; Stanford University, $1,692,462.50; Rancho Los Amigos, $1,659,769.68; California Institute of Technology, $1,342,968.05; University of Southern California, $774,201.09; Alameda County Board of Supervisors, $332,173.89; California State Dept. of Health, $262,570.21; Orthopaedic Hospital, Los Angeles, $123,729.74; University of California, Los Angeles, $100,223.79 and Children's Hospital, Los Angeles, $38,663.93.

Fairmont Hospital has been supported to the extent of $666,838.02 through the grants to Stanford University and the Alameda County Board of Supervisors.

Over and above the 92 per cent used by institutions and county chapters in the state, The National Foundation has financed within the state projects such as the historic field trials which proved the effectiveness of the Salk vaccine, epidemiological studies and scholarship or fellowship grants to California residents. National headquarters' expenditures for the vaccine trials in California amounted to $51,477.74. In addition, the national office has sent into California $277,103.63 worth of Salk vaccine and 590,496 cc's of gamma globulin in support of its polio prevention programs.

Two years ago, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis changed its name to The National Foundation in expanding its areas of interest beyond polio to include bro- defects and arthritis, using the scientific knowledge and ex- perience gained in the fight against polio.

Olsons Visit San Miguel Allende, A City Without Street Cars; Founded in 1542

(This is the Fifth Instalment of Mrs. Olson's account of her recent trip with her husband Harold to historic Mexico. May Ellis Olson and Harold Olson are the proprietors of the Ellis-Olson Mortuary in Albany. A sixth instalment graphically tells of further trips to the small towns surrounding the Mexican capital city, and will appear in an early issue of The Times.)

By MAY ELLIS OLSON

We returned to Mexico City and there boarded a modern 3-car diesel train for San Miguel Allende, a five hour ride. Each car in the train had its own steward having all manner of things for sale, including a luxurious hot lunch served on a tray with the appointments of a first class hotel. As we left the train, a swarm of some ten or twelve ragamuffin children, from 5 to 8 years old, literally snatched our bags from our hands and took off toward the rear of the station. When we finally caught up with them, they were piling our bags into a rattle-trap taxi and holding out their hands for their peso.

We found a Miguel Allende a beautiful city of about 17,000 population (500 Americans), set among green rolling hills. Very picturesque, with narrow cobbled streets of adobe huts in contrast to tree-lined avenues with great aristocratic homes still bearing the coat-of-arms engraved over the doorways.

The town was founded in 1542 by Father Juan de San Miguel when he moved his tiny mission of Otomi Indians to higher ground. Later, the birthplace of one of Mexico's heroes of Independence, Ignacio Allende. San Miguel Allende is a Natl. Monument and, because protected from modernization by the government, has changed very little over the centuries.

The Parochial Church (La Parroquia) in the main plaza is remarkable in design. It is constructed of pink stone with many tall spires and four huge musical bells. It stands proudly overlooking the city, in pink glory. There are about a dozen churches scattered throughout the city. Every fifteen minutes or so the musical note of a church bell pours over the city. There are no traffic problems here. The city is without streetcars. Taxi or shank's mare or burro are the only means of transportation. Most hauling is by burro or back. There is a relaxed peaceful feeling that seems to take over after a few hours in this quiet city.

On Sunday evening, the band plays in the main plaza across from the pink church. From 8 to 9 o'clock an unusual thing happens. All the unmarried young men and women start what is called a Seranata. The girls gather together and march around the square, about four abreast, in time with the marching music from the bandstand. The boys gather and march the opposite way. This goes on for an hour with much giggling, craning of necks, winking and smiling at each other. Eventually, most of the many benches scattered around the square or go across the street for a soda or ice cream. In the meantime, the mothers or some female relative of the girls are sitting in the plaza keeping an eye on developments.

Sunday is Market Day in San Miguel Allende. In one section of the town, the streets are filled with rancheros (ranchers), most of them Indians, selling their products. They are squatting or standing on every bit of space available, some with hastily constructed booths with muslin covers, others just out in the open, some with just a handful of dry beans to sell. They displayed tropical fruits, watermelons, handmade serapes, hand woven sombreros, pottery of all kinds, beautiful handmade bird cages and numerous other articles. The lady of the house does her weekly shopping here. She carries a basket into which everything goes that she buys. Very few paper sacks were in evidence.

The market was crowded, everyone shoulder to shoulder or squatting down to examine wares spread out on the street. Directors of Sanitation or American Health Officers would tear their hair in this atmosphere. Fruit is consumed and seeds and peelings spit on the ground. The flies and yellow-jackets have a field day. The dispenser of meat brushes off the flies before he cuts a leg or shoulder for a customer. Everywhere are children of all ages running, crying and, some of the little ones, sleeping almost anywhere. A Mexican market is truly an enlightening experience.

The Instituto, a school of arts and crafts, is the center of an Art Colony in the town. The school has a fine staff of teachers including some of Mexico's foremost painters and attracts students from many countries.

We visited a mortuary in San Miguel Allende but found it to be more of a casket factory. In San Miguel, burials take place in 24 hours after death. No embalming is done and the casket is carried to the home on the shoulders of the men in the family, and to the cemetery in the same way.

We had the pleasure of dining at the home of a lovely Spanish family. We were served a different and tasteful meal in beautiful surroundings. We learned that those foods we think of as typically Mexican or Spanish, such as enchiladas, tamales and tacos, are eaten there as we eat hamburgers or hot dogs in this country. We started dinner at 10:30 p.m. Meal times in Mexico are quite different than in the U.S.A.: a light breakfast at 7:00 a.m. or so, then a large meal about 10:30 or 11:00 a.m.; luncheon in late afternoon about 3:00 p.m.; with siesta time from 1 to 4, many shops close between those hours and, in the small towns, the streets are practically deserted; dinner is served between 9 and 11 p.m. Meal time is a slow, leisure time. Service in the restaurants is the same way.

Turning cars are a major cause of pedestrian traffic accidents each year, the California State Automobile Association said today, in warning school children to be alert when crossing the street.

Before stepping off the curb it is necessary for the pedestrian to look in all directions to make sure the way is clear, reminded the CSAA.

A car about to turn a corner is doubly hazardous, said the AAA motorists' organization, because the pedestrian will not see it unless he turns around, and the driver, preoccupied with watching for crossing traffic, may not see the pedestrian.

A safety poster illustrating the theme, "Watch for Turning Cars," is being distributed this month to schools in northern and central California as part of the regular monthly safety program of the CSAA.

The poster was a first prize winner in the American Automobile Association's National Traffic Safety Poster Contest. The poster was reproduced and is being distributed by AAA motor clubs in many sections of the country.

Senior Citizen Activities, 850 Masonic

Next meeting of the Albany Senior Citizens of 850 Masonic Avenue will be held March 7, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Remember the Center is open Saturday evenings at 7:30, and Sundays at 1 p.m., for cards and other recreation. Bring your own sandwich, coffee will be provided. The Senior Citizen bowling club meets every Friday at the Albany Bowl, starting at 1 o'clock. New members are welcome.

The Seniors are planning a bus trip some time in May if enough passengers can be signed up. This will be an overnight trip down the coast on Highway One to the Hearst Memorial Monument and San Simeon. It is located between Carmel and San Luis Obispo, with an overnight stop at San Luis. The buildings at the monument were built by the late William Randolph Hearst, and the priceless collection of art objects was gathered by the publisher over the years, many of them having been brought to this country from Italy, Spain and other European countries. Seniors wishing to make such a trip may contact Mary Arns at LAndscape 5-9124, who can give the particulars including cost of the trip.
